

Rebecca Vander Meulen, Director of Mission at the Diocese of Niassa, talks about why the new training hub in Nampula is so important for mission.

Our brainstorming and story-telling work goes well whether we are under a mango tree, or on a boat, or sitting around a table...

...but it's much easier to track budgets and define indicators and write reports where there are tables and chairs and electricity. The staff and clergy in the regions of the diocese with equipped offices are able to produce professional documents more efficiently than those in regions with mango-tree-offices.
